118TH DAY.

SATURDAY, NOV. 1. The House began business at 10:15 o'clock. ORDER OF THE DAY.

The House promeeded with the second reading of the Election Bill. Secs. 41 and 42 passed. Rep. Pachaole, on Sec. 43 being read, said that Secs. 43 to 68 inclusive were the same as the old law, and he thought it a waste of time to read them. Noble Widemann said there were slight alterations.

The section passed, also Secs. 44 to 46. Noble Widemann moved an amendment to Sec. 47, "of candidates," as submitted by committee. Noble Marsden moved to make the fee for a candidate for Noble twenty-five dollars instead of lifty. He understood it was made double that of Representative candidates last session for a joke. It was time to undo that joke, as the expense to the Government was the same in one case as the other. Rep. Kauhi moved the fee be seventy-five dollars. Rep. Pachaole supported the last amendment. Some of the Nobles were elected for six, and others four years, therefore it was only fair that they should pay more than a Representative.

Noble Marsden said the Noble ad to pay the expenses of attending the Legislature all those years without compensation, while the Representative was paid an indemnity of $250 a session. Rep. Rickard rather favored the seventy-five dollar amendment, as it was worth the extra twenty-five dollars to have a front seat like the hon. Noble from Hankua, (Laughter.) Noble Marsden would withdraw nis amendment, and make it one hundred and fifty dollars. His object had not been to save planters or other wealthy persons the money, but to make it easier for natives and poor men to run for Nobles. Noble Cornwell and himself could afford to pay a hundred and fifty dollars. Rep. Knudsen thought there was no country in the world that made a man pay to run an election. It was a purse-proud idea. He moved to strike out the fees altogether.

Noble Widemann's amendment carried, the others were all rejected. and the section passed as amended. Secs. 48-50 passed, also Sec. 51, as amended by committee. Secs. 53 and 54, "of opening and closing the polls," passed. Minister Peterson moved an amendment to Sec. 55, "of ballots," providing for the party designation of candidates on the ballots. Carried, and the section passed as amended.

Minister Peterson moved to to Sec. 56, "Specimen ballots shall be of red or green paper." Carried, and the section passed as amended. Secs. 57-60 passed with amendments recommended by committee. Sec. 61 (as amended by committee)-"For the purpose of voting the Chairman shall fold the ballot twice, first across the middle so as to form a rectangle, and again in the same manner and in the same direction, and in such manner as to conceal the contents thereof, and thus folded shall hand it to the voter"- caused a desultory discussion. Rep. Kauhi supported the amendment, requiring the Chairman to do the folding.

Noble Cornwell asked what if the voter could not read or write. Rep. Kauhi said that would be the voter's lookout. (Laughter.) Rep. Pachaole thought it would not hurt to strike the section out. Rep. White held that the proposed amendment would prevent voters from identifying their ballots to their employers by method of fold-The section passed as above.

Sections were passed with committee's amendments till the section was reached which says, "Any voter who declares to the Chairman of Inspectors that by blindness or other physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, shall upon request receive the assistance of one of the Inspectors of election in the marking thereof."

- Minister Peterson moved to insert the words, ''or illiteracy'' after ''dis-

Rep. Kauhi was strengly against the amendment. It would open the door to fraud.

Rep. Brown considered the amendment necessary in order to comply with the Constitution. He was sorry so many illiterate people had the franchise, but it would be unconstitutional to make a law that would prevent any of these people from

Noble Widemann held that although the Constitution gave a man the right to vote, it did not compel another man to carry him to the Minister Peterson regarded the amendment as necessary.

Noble Macfarlane did not think there would be all the trouble anticipated in voting. All the names would be on one ballot, with those of each party running consecutively at one end. He objected to the amendment as being subversive of the object of the bill. Rep. Rickard considered the discussion proved they were attempting to do something prematurely, and he would move the acction he struck out and the bill be indefinitely postponed. (Ruled out of order, as the question was only pending on a doubted vote.)

The amendment was lost and the section passed. The House adjourned at 12:05.
